

Anne Tortzen presentation:

Anne Tortzen is the founder and CEO of Center for Citizen Dialogue and works as consultant and researcher within the field of citizen involvement and co-production. Anne holds a master in political science, and in 2017 she defended her PhD 'Leading co-production in Danish Municipalities' based on a case-study of co-production processes in three Danish municipalities.

For the last ten years, Anne has advised Danish and Nordic municipalities in developing local democracy, citizen involvement and co-production/co-creation. She is an experienced lecturer and consultant, combining research-based knowledge with practical skills and insight into the everyday conditions of public organizations and civil servants.
